

Testimonial

“Cara provides knowledgeable, empathic and professional care for my diabetic cat, Penelope. I know Penelope is well cared for while I’m away from home—not just that she receives her daily injections, but also gets regular brushing and lots of cuddles. Cara was also able to calm my guilt and fears about giving my cat insulin injections by explaining and demonstrating how best to give injections.

It also puts my mind at ease to know that someone with Cara’s background is looking after the animals, because sometimes unexpected things happen. Not long ago, she called me with concerns about my brother’s dog who was apparently showing signs of a neurological disorder. She suggested that he should be seen by our vet for a full evaluation. (He did have a neurological problem, but he’s fine now.) Knowing that she can identify these problems is very reassuring.”

Biography

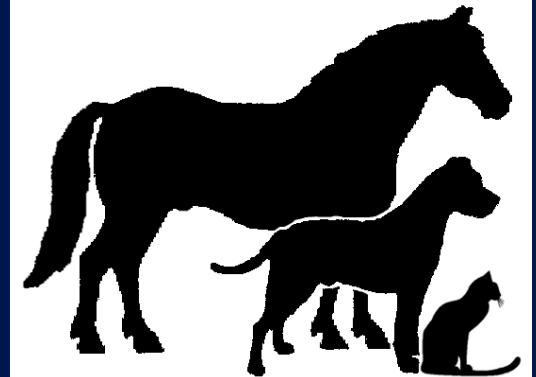

Cara Mumford studied veterinary medicine at the Ontario Veterinary College. As a veterinary student, she worked at a variety of clinics, including specialty clinics such as the Cat Clinic in Hamilton, Ontario and Illinois Equine Hospital & Clinic in Naperville, Illinois.

Cara also has extensive experience in the horse industry. She managed the barn of Heather Manbert on the Ontario jumper circuit and worked for many years with horses for show and pleasure.

Cara recently moved to Calgary and she is currently writing the fabjob.com Guide to Become a Veterinarian. Her personal experiences in caring for aging cats with chronic disease inspired her to start Medical Pet Sitting Services.

About Us

Do you have an animal that is sick, injured or has a chronic disease?

Whether you have a cat or a dog or a horse, it can be difficult to find someone to care for animals with special veterinary needs. Many people don't feel comfortable giving a needle or a pill and they may not want the responsibility of caring for an unwell animal.

So choose the only option that allows your animal to have full care at home. And whether you are going out of town on business or vacation, you can go with the peace of mind that your pets are well cared for by Medical Pet Sitting Services.

Services Included

- Injections & Pills;
- Subcutaneous Fluids;
- Wound Cleaning & Dressing;
- Preparation of Special Diet;
- Basic Care (feeding, brushing, playing, cuddling, brief walks and more).

This list is not exhaustive. If your pet requires medical services that are not included here, call MPSS and ask about them. We should be able to accommodate your pets needs.

Benefits of Using MPSS

By choosing Medical Pet Sitting Services, you provide your pets with:

- All of the at-home medical care that your pet requires;
- Experienced caregivers who can monitor your pet's health;
- No stress caused by travel or the presence of strange animals;
- A familiar, secure environment;
- Regular exercise and play time;
- Their normal routine;
- Individual love and attention.
